Strategic Action Plan – 2023

Strategic Pillar 1 – Te Hiranga Poutama – 'Taking steps to achieving excellence'

Quality education where Kelburn children learn creatively and achieve excellence

Strategic Goal	(How will we know)	Actions (What are we doing)
Te ao Māori / Culturally-responsive pedagogy / Culture and Identity Children learn inclusively, in ways coherent with the Principles of Te Tiriti o Waitangi, the bicultural nature of New Zealand society, and its increasing multiculturalism.	Annual report to the Board on how te ao Maori is progressing at Kelburn, including the NZ Histories curriculum implementation.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Our learning spaces, assemblies, mihi whakatau, events, staffroom, and meetings are rich with te reo and tikanga.</li> <li>2. Teachers continually develop their skills and knowledge to improve their capacity to successfully work with children in this area.</li> <li>3. Teachers and support staff incorporate Te Reo and waiata in daily usage. Using EP programme in Y5-8 to strengthen te reo Māori for kaiako and tamariki.</li> <li>4. In 2023 the Aotearoa NZ histories curriculum widens the access to te ao Maori through a bi cultural and multicultural analysis of how Aotearoa is today. Promote opportunities for te reo Māori by using Kapa Haka experts and our talent (Jeremy/Henare/Jason).</li> <li>5. Progress staff understanding of Culturally Responsive Practices for Curriculum through CORE and Kahui Ako. Ensure Maori perspectives are consistently examined in each unit of inquiry.</li> <li>6. Source resources for learning that examine NZ histories. (e.g. school journal, CORE)</li> </ol>
Pūkengatanga / Excellence/ Equity Children enjoy success across the curriculum with 90% or more achieving at or above the expected level in reading, writing, science and mathematics.	All students across gender and all ethnicities are achieving at or above 90% in reading, writing, maths and science. Maori and Pasifika students achieve at or above 90% in reading, writing and maths and science, equitable to non-Maori.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. A wide range of learning experiences are available to students and this is communicated to whānau who are aware of what tamariki are learning at school, including learning opportunities outside the classroom.</li> <li>2. Our teachers and learning support team continue to develop their toolbox for working with neurodiverse learners and adapting pedagogy and the curriculum to best suit their learning needs.</li> <li>3. Individual Education Plans are developed and revisited on a regular basis, and students achieving below or beyond cohort expectations experience support/extension through class and group as appropriate.</li> <li>4. Use teacher strengths to provide expertise with the learning environment, as well as engage Class descriptions record relevant student achievement information and regular assessment and examples contribute to a learning picture</li> <li>5. Students underachieving identified and support/strategy in place and ethnic/gender differences analysed for equitable outcomes</li> <li>6. experts - music teachers, kaiako and whānau.</li> <li>7. ## Strategic Pillar 2 ~ Oranga Tonutanga – 'Wrap around support for all'

An engaging school with a culture of care for all children and teachers at Kelburn.

Strategic Goal	(How will we know)	Actions (What are we doing)
Manaakitanga, Wellbeing, Agency, Voice Children and staff thrive as individuals in a safe and positive culture that nurtures their strengths and their needs, and their support for each other and engage fully with the varieties of learning.	Bi-annual NZCER survey will report high levels of well-being and satisfaction of curriculum and learning engagement by our children. Pathways for Creative Agency work provides	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Hauora programmes, such as HEART, our values, and our manaakitanga concept run through the learning spaces at all times.</li> <li>2. Positive Behaviour for learning (PB4L) begins to refine our practice, strategies and documentation.</li> <li>3. Using Sue Roffey's work on Wellbeing to guide our structural planning of learning programmes to address the growth of the whole child.</li> <li>4. Using our collective strength we promote inclusivity for all our tamariki and understand the diversity of our students. We achieve more together, not on our own.</li> <li>5. Our Hauora well-being work and regular mentoring supports tamariki at school. Kaiako work with whānau to put tamariki hauora, and engagement as a priority.</li> </ol>
Ako, Learning environments Relationships between staff and children, through a collaborative learning environment are effective, positive, and inclusive, and display the values and the mana of the school to the community.	Report to the Board on relationships using staff research into effective practice to better engage learners.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Our culture of learning at KNS celebrates what each child brings to the learning space.</li> <li>2. Teachers configure learning groups and use spaces flexibly and effectively for children to enable them to grow, be innovative and resourceful.</li> <li>3. Our school question for 2023 - How do we set up a successful Home LearningTeam culture? Think about what problems you might encounter and how you problem-solve these.</li> <li>4. Using Seesaw (Y1-4) and Google Classroom (Y5-8) to generate qualitative assessment data that builds a learning profile of students.</li> <li>5. Staff and tamariki care for our spaces and grounds so that they can be fully enjoyed, and represent the values and the mana of the school to the community.</li> </ol>

Strategic Pillar 3 ~ He Kura Herenga Tāngata – 'Uniting our community in partnership'

Relationships that inform, include, and connect our Kelburn community.

Strategic Aim (Goal)	(How will we know)	Actions (What are we doing)
Whānaungatanga, Inclusiveness KNS, whānau and community build effective partnerships through interaction, invitation and effective communication	Annual community surveys and feedback will be positive and constructive reflecting the positive work of the school to include our community.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Enable whānau to be able to access information about the child's progress in learning, and the school's progress.</li> <li>2. Teachers and staff are communicative and open to informing and promoting whānau discussion around children's learning, including using Apps and Tools to share student work with whānau.</li> <li>3. Ensure processes for communication for whānau for children with different learning needs, for new families, for new immigrant families and for whom English is a second language.</li> <li>4. Our parents and whānau group have many strengths and can add strength to our learning landscape to enhance our whanaungatanga.</li> <li>5. Blended learning, using digital devices and multiple literacies, increases tamariki and kaiako access to resources and opportunities and enables sharing with whānau.</li> <li>6. Messages reinforced to the school community to extend the reach of our sustainability message - eg walking to school, waste minimisation</li> </ol>
Connections, Participation, Citizenship Kelburn connects with our local resources, our natural environment, with iwi and mana whenua, and with the city and its cultural institutions to enrich learning opportunities that promote a culture of responsibility for our community, our environment and our future.	Annual report to the Board on ways the school has engaged with our local community, and used resources available to the school to grow Citizenship and Participation.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. We use the city, and the many experts within our proximity to Wellington as a resource to support and enhance our learning.</li> <li>2. The Kahui Ako (8 connected schools) create relationships to expand each school's capability, in particular graduate profiles and gathering data around creative agency.</li> <li>3. Embed culture of sustainability through learning opportunities, and continue to reinforce all recycling practices.</li> <li>4. Contexts for learning have relevance to the child, and reflect what is close to them, while expanding their horizons and knowledge about communities in local and global context.</li> <li>5. Problem solving and collaborative ideas are encouraged to improve local and global conditions for communities.</li> <li>6. Using critical literacy in the digital space to understand digital citizenship and its community.</li> <li>7. Using Apps and Tools (Google Classroom/ Adobe Spark/Podcasting) to enable students to become more resourceful and reflective as learners.</li> </ol>

Kelburn Normal School – Annual Student Achievement Targets 2023

Strategic Aim - Achieve equitable outcomes across all groups so 90% or more of all students are achieving at or above the expected level in reading, writing mathematics and science.

Reading 2023	Writing 2023
Key themes:- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ensure equitable outcomes between students.</li> <li>• Minimise any gap in achievement in reading between boys and girls across the school from years 4-8.</li> <li>• Reduce the number of children achieving below the expected level of achievement</li> </ul> 2023 target Using NZCER PAT reading test in term 1 and AsTTle reading in term 1 and term 4, achieve equitable outcomes for learners throughout the school achieving 'at or above' the expected NZ curriculum level as we look for an aspirational target of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 90% of all students 'above' the expected level at PAT stanine 5 and specific year group cohort AsTTle curriculum level</li> <li>• 45% of all students well above the expected level in Reading at stanine 7 and specific year group cohort AsTTle curriculum level,</li> </ul> Cross check priority learners progress, at all levels, with various literacy tests and be able to report accelerated levels of progress.	Key theme:- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ensure equitable outcomes between students.</li> <li>• Reduce the number of children achieving below the expected level of achievement.</li> </ul> 2023 Target Using our writing moderation processes from NZ Literacy progression exemplars - in 2023 we target to continue to increase the number of students throughout the school achieving at the 'above' the expected' NZ curriculum level as we look to ensure there is no achievement gap in writing between girls and boys. Report on accelerated progress of the children not at the expected level from 2022 by reporting term 2 and term 4 2023 achievement results in writing that show progress with more children working at the at/above expected level.
